Office of Legislative Counsel

Thursday - 19 March 1959

1. Kenneth BeLieu, Senate Committee on Astronautics and Space Sciences, telephoned to call my attention to an article in Space Business Daily of 17 March 1959 (Vol. 1 No. 20), published by the Eastmount Corporation, 721 Albee Building. The article has reference to a portion of the missile situation. He will send a copy for information after which it will be forwarded to Security or other appropriate action.

2. Mr. Sourwine, Counsel for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, telephoned to inquire concerning [redacted] STATINTL [redacted] He inquired whether [redacted] actually had any information on personalities in the U. S. I told him I would look into the matter and advise.

3. Telephoned Representative Harold C. Ostertag's office (D., New York) and advised Mrs. Demory that the biographical data on Mr. Dulles contained in the transcript before the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee was too interspersed with classified material and suggested that perhaps their objective would be served by a prepared biography which we could forward. This seemed agreeable and this has been forwarded.

4. Mrs. Betty Welch in the office of Representative A. D. Baumhart, Jr. (D., Ohio) telephoned attempting to locate [redacted] STATOTHR STAT! [redacted] a constituent of the Congressman. She was advised later that we had no record of a person by this name and suggested they try either DOD or Department of State.

5. Mr. Richard Arens of HCUA telephoned to inquire if we could furnish any information on [redacted] recent trip in view of the fact that they have subpoenaed him to appear on [redacted] Mr. Arens wanted any information we had including itinerary, who he saw and any of his statements.

6. [redacted] telephoned to say that he had seen Congressman Clement J. Zablocki (D., Wis.) last night at dinner and Zablocki having met [redacted] before, discussed with him the resolution for a Joint Committee of last year stating that since the Speaker, Mr. Rayburn, was opposed it had not gone very far although it might have if the session had lasted longer. He continued by saying the session might last long enough this year for action to be taken.
